

New from Azure

The Spirit at Work Phenomenon
By Sue Howard and David Welbourn

Businesses have become the most powerful and influential institutions on earth and so have social and planetary responsibilities that go beyond simply making a profit: the sustainability of our world is in question. Recent business scandals highlight the deficiencies of the 'bottom line rules all' approach, while September 11th focused our minds on asking deeper questions about the meaning and purpose of our working lives.

It isn't surprising then, that calls for a greater emphasis on spirituality are gaining momentum. This accessible book, with its many stories, examples and lists of vital resources, is the first to draw together in one volume all the central aspects of workplace spirituality. As such, it is an essential guide to current thinking and key debates.

Brilliant! The book has academic clarity and yet warmth of heart; it is inspirational and I shall use it and draw on it frequently.

Georgeanne Lamont, author of The Spirited Business and managing partner of SpiritWorks Ltd

The Spirit at Work Phenomenon is the most comprehensive overview of the movement I've seen. And it's rich in resources! It's a "must read" for anyone who is longing for more fulfilment from their work.

John Renesch, author and international keynote speaker

ISBN: 1902694295

Price: £14.99

To order your copy of the book please send a cheque to Corinne Munday, Azure Press, 1 Marylebone Road, London,
NW1 4DU

Telephone: 020 7643 0382 cmunday@spck.org.uk

You can also order it from our website – www.spckonline.com